Big Bay, MI
202 Besinger St.

Opened in 1938 as Rose's Tavern, later renamed Lumberjack Tavern. It was the scene of a murder in 1952 when Army Lieutenant Coleman Peterson shot and killed Tavern owner Maurice "Mike" Chenowith. A best selling novel was written about the murder and subsequent trial, followed in 1959 with the movie of the same name. filmed in Marquette County, where the murder took place, which was a first for a Hollywood movie at the time. Directed by Otto Preminger and starred Jimmy Stewart, Lee Remick, George C. Scott and a host of other A-Listers. Take a picture of the Body outline on the floor, inside the tavern. (if they're not yet open when you arrive, take a picture of the front of the bar, include the "Murder free since 1952" sign and your motorcycle).

Ontonagon, MI
North side of M-64, between Silver City and Ontonagon

The Carp Lake Township School Bell is located between the pavilion and the Changing Room of this small beach at Green Park on Lake Superior. The bell was donated in the memory of whom? The day we scouted this bonus, it was 49°F but a bunch of kids from a visiting family were out swimming. Brrrrrr!

[BIG] 46.0043 -86.3821 Points: 803
Manistique, MI
Sawmill Road

Located in Palms Book State Park is KITCH-IPI-KIPI - better known as the Big Spring. It is exactly that! And one of the most interesting and beautiful places we've visited in the U.P. The main attraction is a large, tourist-powered raft that glides back-and-forth over the Big Spring. The spring is 10,000 gallons per minute of fresh water burbling up through the pond floor, 40' below the surface. Large fish can be seen in the crystal clear, 45 degree water. Follow the boardwalk to the observation deck with 3 informational signs. Hang your flag on the railing and take a photo of the raft in transit. NOTE: The raft must be either going out or coming back when the photo is taken. It cannot be docked. If the line to board the raft isn't excessively long, you owe it to yourself to take a ride. They may even let you drive.

Haight Township, MI
U.S. 45 (a few miles east of Paulding)

Also located on the Middle Branch Ontonagon River, deep in the wilderness, Bond Falls is considered by many to be the most beautiful falls in Michigan. If you haven't already, you'll need to pay $11 for a day pass at the entrance. Trust us, it's worth it. Park in the parking lot, then follow the path and boardwalk a short 1/10 mile to the first viewing platform. Place your flag on the wrought iron fence and take a photo of this spectacular falls. Look behind you and notice the bench in memory of Dale "Animal" Mueller.

[BOY] 45.1074 -87.6049 Points: 707
Menominee, MI Hours: 10am-1pm
940 1st St.

Usually located in a fountain with water leaking from the toe of the boy's right boot, this statue is located in a water free library. The boy is reported to be a young Italian newspaper seller who drowned, or an American army drummer who carried water in his leaking boot to help fallen comrades, or a young fire-fighter either using his boot in a bucket chain or emptying his boot after an incident, or possibly none of these. What we do know is this particular statue was brought to Menominee in 1890 by John Henes. Enter the library and head up to the second floor to find The Boy and the Boot statue. Take a photo.

Trenary Toast is twice-baked bread with cinnamon sprinkled on top. It came over with the Finnish that settled in the area in the 1800s and has been baked in the Trenary Home Bakery since 1928. It's a simple recipe, sold in a plain brown bag and is delicious when dunked in coffee. Take a photo of your bike in front of the bakery. If they're open, we recommend heading inside and purchasing some for yourself!

The entrance to the pedestrian tunnel underneath US-2 can be accessed from the H. Pearson Plaza. The coordinates will take you to the parking lot adjacent to the plaza. Walk north toward the lake to the plaza, down a few flights of steps and into the tunnel. This tunnel is filled with beautiful wildlife mosaics and hand-painted scenery. Walk the entire tunnel and you will see mosaics of a deer, whooping crane (on the ceiling!), badger, grey wolf and so much more as you find yourself looking at Lake Superior at the other end. Painted next to the mosaics is the name of the animal in the native Ojibwe language of this region and translated into English. Find the mosaic of the bear standing by a tree and looking at a bumblebee. What is the native Ojibwe word for "bear"?

There have been four (4) USS KEARSARGE ships since the 1860s, with the current Kearsarge serving in the Mediterranean. The stone ship on display honors the original USS KEARSARGE, a Steam Sloop of War built during the Civil War. Take a photo of the USS KEARSARGE Ship of Stones. Interestingly, according to Roadside America, the city was named after the ship by a Calumet and Hecla Mining Co. employee who had served on her during the Civil War.

Ford Motor Company sold more than 1 million Model Ts in 1919. Each car used 100 board feet of wood for parts. because of the amount of wood used, Henry Ford enlisted the help of Edward G, Kingsford to acquire timberland in Iron Mountain and built a sawmill in a nearby area which later became Kingsford, Michigan. Scraps from the wood used were made into charcoal briquets and sold at Ford dealers as well as local hardware stores. Eventually renamed Kingsford Charcoal Briquets that we know today, Take a photo of the Model T between the parking lot and the patio of Henry's Steakhouse.
